HOLIDAY 2010

It's almost time for your "HOLIDAY WHINE".

Don't let the holiday season get you stressed, enjoy your holidays with the Lolita "Holiday Whine" glass. Complain in style as you wrap your remaining 50 presents, as you decide what to get your mother-in-law, or when you realize you have 20 minutes left until your party guests arrive! I can't help you wrap presents but I can help you plan a fabulous Holiday party! When choosing a theme for your holiday party, consider your crowd and the good belly laughs they all need in the middle of the holiday season. Take inspiration from fun Lolita Christmas designs, like "Holiday Whine", to create a wine tasting party or any other design to create a kind of lighthearted, fun and comfortable atmosphere centered around your guests! Or you can always set up a martini bar at your party with a few different holiday glasses and recipes. Decorate your tree, table and everywhere else in your home to match your Holiday party color and theme! Food is a must so make sure to have lots of appetizers, cheeses and delicious dips to snack on while tasting on your favorite wine or sipping on a delicious martini. Crank up the Holiday music and you've got yourself a party. Oh and as far as what to get your mother-in-law, how about a Lolita Wine Glass?

Light up the Holidays!

New this Holiday season are the Lolita Mini Candle Ornaments. These Mini Candle ornaments light up with an LED light inside...the beauty of candlelight but safe for your Christmas tree. Each Mini Candle ornament comes with a ribbon and a hanger, ready for the tree. Perfect as hostess gifts, party favors and stocking stuffers!

Cheers & Happy Holidays!

Love,
Lolita
